

CAUCUS MAKING SLOW PROGRESS

House Democrats Discuss Agricultural Schedule.

CITY AND COUNTRY COLLIDE

Members From Thickly Populated Districts Contend That All Farm and Food Products Should Be Placed on the Free List—Members From Agricultural States Complain That Rates Sacrifice Interests of Farmers.

Washington, April 15.—City was arrayed against country when the Democratic members of the house of representatives resumed consideration in caucus of the Underwood tariff bill. "The fellows from the city," as they were characterized by Representative Shackleford of Missouri, turned their batteries on the agricultural schedule, which imposes small protection rates on nearly all products of the farm. The city members expressed the belief that, in order to help the "market basket," all farm and food products should be placed on the free list.

They urged this view when the bill was before the committee on ways and means and in clarion tones they reiterated it. They declared that, as an evidence of good faith, the Democratic party ought to try free trade in food products in an effort to reduce the cost of living.

Representative Hammond of Minnesota, who helped to frame the agricultural schedule, defended it. He said it was not entirely satisfactory to him, but it represented a compromise, fair in the main to all interests involved.

Most of the members from agricultural states complained bitterly that the rates of the schedule under consideration sacrificed the interests of the farmers. They urged that the reductions would in no wise affect the cost of living and that, this being so, it would be the wise thing to accord the farmers a little more "incidental protection."

Both sides to the controversy hammered the rates of the Underwood agricultural schedule, but when the time came to vote the majority of the caucus stood by Chairman Underwood and his associates.

Harrison Defends Schedule.

An element of humor was injected in the session by the appearance of Representative Harrison of New York as a defender of the agricultural schedule. Mr. Harrison was one of the leading advocates of free farm products when the Underwood bill was in course of preparation in the committee on ways and means and he clashed on a number of occasions with Mr. Hammond.

Owing to illness Representative Underwood was able to be present. As the ranking Democrat next to Mr. Underwood it became necessary, therefore, for Mr. Harrison to act as leader and, accordingly, he had to defend the agricultural schedule. Mr. Harrison made a good job of it. He did his work so well that the "city fellows" failed in every effort they made either to reduce rates or to transfer certain products to the free list.

Although the committee won out on every question brought into controversy little progress was made on the agricultural schedule. Less than a page of it was considered. Nobody seemed to be particularly happy over the rates of the agricultural schedule and nearly everybody growled about it.

One amendment was offered providing that cattle should be placed on the free list instead of carrying a rate of 10 per cent ad valorem as provided by the bill. This was defeated.

Another amendment was offered increasing the duty on barley, which is taxed at the rate of 15 cents a bushel in the bill as compared with 30 cents in the existing law.

MORGAN TAX NEAR $3,000,000

Inheritance Tax Based on Preliminary Estimates of Estate.

Albany, N. Y., April 15.—New York state will receive between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000 in inheritance tax from the estate of the late J. P. Morgan, according to preliminary estimates made by attaches of the state comptroller's office. The estimate is based on a report that the total estate will be about $100,000,000. The tax is expected to be one of the largest ever paid.

Coroner Killed in Elevator.

Bismarck, N. D., April 15.—E. G. Field, county coroner and furniture merchant, was crushed to death while working on a freight elevator, half way between two floors. His cries brought immediate assistance, but it was necessary to wreck the elevator with saws and axes before he was liberated.

Three Men Asphyxiated.

Winnipeg, April 15.—While the Gunn block on Jarvis avenue was being fumigated to drive out cockroaches deadly fumes of the acid used worked their way into the Ideal Turkish baths next door and two bathers and an attendant were asphyxiated. Their dead bodies were found by an attendant.

WANTS ARIZONA TO NAME JUDGE

Senator Ashurst Favors Primary for Federal Place.

PRESIDENT MAY ACT SOON

Former Governor Sloan Was Appointed by Mr. Taft, but Failed of Confirmation in the Senate—Wilson Fails to Name Candidate Recommended and Contest Has Grown Until There Are Twelve Aspirants in the Field.

Washington, April 15.—President Wilson's ideas of direct government by the people are to be put to a severe test by Senator Henry Ashurst of Arizona. Mr. Ashurst, who is an advocate of the initiative, referendum and judicial recall, has put into operation a plan for determining the popular choice of a judge for the federal district of Arizona. When that choice is determined he will call upon President Wilson to name the man.

President Taft appointed former Governor Sloan to this important judgeship, but the senate refused to confirm the nomination and a vacancy exists. Senators Ashurst and Smith joined in recommending a candidate to President Wilson, but he was not appointed and the contest for the place continued to grow warmer until now there are twelve candidates.

Senator Ashurst finally has notified the president and the attorney general that he will withdraw the recommendation he put on file and will ask the people of Arizona to petition the governor to call "an advisory election" at an early date, so as to give the people of Arizona an opportunity to express their choice for a federal judge.

Under a statute of Arizona 15 per cent of the voters of the state may petition the governor to call an election to permit the people to vote on their choice for federal judge, the result of the election to be certified to the president as "advisory." Senator Ashurst has sent more than a thousand circulars to leading citizens in Arizona and the newspapers there are printing blank petitions, which their readers are requested to cut out and sign and forward to the governor.

Ashurst Explains Position.

"If the president sees fit to fill the vacancy, regardless of the petitions that are being circulated for the special election, I will have no quarrel with the president about it," said Senator Ashurst. "I recognize his right, as well as his responsibility, in the matter. Our statute providing for advisory elections to give the people an opportunity to express their preference for federal judge is the only one of its kind in any state in the Union. I helped to pass the statute and I believe it is my duty to see the spirit of it carried out."

In the letter which Senator Ashurst sent to his constituents urging them to petition the governor to call an election he said: "Surely the people have the same right to make an expression as to their choice for federal judge as for senators," and adds: "A vast majority of the harsh, unreasonable and unjust decisions against organized labor have been rendered by the federal courts," and "the power of issuance of injunctions and other extraordinary writs has been greatly abused by some federal judges."

Some of the Democrats in Arizona have become alarmed over the proposed special election. They have warned Senator Ashurst that it might result in the election of former Governor Sloan, a Republican, whose nomination was not confirmed by the senate.

"I told them that if the people of Arizona wanted Governor Sloan for federal judge they were entitled to have him," said Senator Ashurst. "The election, if called, will be open to Democrats and Republicans alike to vote for a choice."

For Presidential Primaries.

Washington, April 15.—A bill to provide for presidential primaries in all states was introduced by Representative Stevens of Minnesota. It passed this bill would, in Mr. Stevens' judgment, enable the choice of the people to be nominated for president, leaving nothing for the national convention to do but draw a platform for the candidates to run on.

Washington, April 15.—Great Britain has formally responded to the American inquiry as to the acceptability of Walter H. Page as American ambassador to the court of St. James. Mr. Page is persona grata to the British government and his nomination will be sent to the senate by President Wilson.

LAI IN CEDAR HILL GRAVE

J. P. Morgan's Remains Interred at Hartford, Conn.

Hartford, Conn., April 15.—The body of J. Pierpont Morgan was laid at rest in the family lot in Cedar Hill cemetery.

The cortege passed along Asylum street, past the financier's birthplace, which was draped in black, down Main street, where stands the memorial erected by Mr. Morgan to his father, who was born 100 years ago.

Practically the whole distance of three miles to the cemetery the streets were lined with people. The committal service was read by Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster of the Episcopal diocese of Connecticut. He was assisted by Rev. Karl Reiland of St. George's church, New York city, and Bishop William Lawrence of the diocese of Massachusetts. The services were conducted in a large tent, which had been erected over the grave and beside the Morgan mausoleum. They followed the Episcopal service strictly.

WILSON WELCOMES D. A. R. DELEGATES

Stormy Business Session Precedes President's Address.

Washington, April 15.—Delegates to the Continental Congress of the D. A. R., which began its twenty-second annual session here, were welcomed to Washington by President Wilson in his first public address here since his inauguration. Addresses of welcome also were made by Secretary of State Bryan and the French ambassador, M. Jusserand. Both the president and Secretary Bryan told the delegates that it was their duty to apply the principles of their revolutionary ancestors to modern problems.

The session given over to addresses of welcome followed a stormy business meeting, which resulted in a partial victory for the forces of Mrs. William Cummings Story of New York, one of the candidates in the strenuous contests for president general of the society. Mrs. Story's partisans secured authorization for the appointment of a collateral committee of representatives of each of the candidates for president general to pass upon the seating of contested delegations.

The fight opened almost as soon as President General Scott had finished her address of welcome, asking for "peace and harmony."

The reading of the report of the credentials committee aroused a storm and many objections to rulings of the chair.

VETOES STERILIZATION BILL.

Nebraska Governor Calls It Like Practice in Pagan Nations.

Lincoln, Neb., April 15.—Governor Morehead vetoed the bill providing for the sterilization of confirmed criminals and the mentally incompetent.

The governor takes the view that such treatment as that provided for in the bill would be more like the practices of pagan nations than that of a Christian country and he is also inclined to believe that it would be unconstitutional in that it would provide for cruel and inhuman treatment.

The senate, practically without debate, by a vote of 24 to 7, passed the bill over his veto and sent it to the house for concurrence.

GUNPOWDER IN MILK CAN

Infernal Machine Found in the Bank of England.

London, April 15.—A milk can filled with gunpowder and connected with an electric fuse was found inside the railing surrounding the Bank of England. It was removed by the police.

Smoke was issuing from the can when a policeman found it. He plunged it into a fountain in the vicinity. When the can was examined a clockwork arrangement was found inside.

The attempt on the bank is attributed in some quarters to the militant suffragettes.

WASHINGTON GETS MANY SURPRISES

New Administration Makes Own Program.

CAPITAL LIKES NOVELTY.

President Wilson Has Original Way of Doing Things—His Plan of Reading His Message to Congress Was Startling, but Turned Out Well, Nearly Everybody Agrees.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 15.—[Special.]—The new administration has given Washington a number of surprises, and Washington gasps for breath occasionally. Such was the case especially when it was stated that President Wilson would frequently visit the capitol and confer with senators and representatives. Then when he said he was going to the capitol and in person read his first message Washington was astounded.

But when the program was carried out everything went off so smoothly that it seemed a mighty nice thing to do. President Wilson, perfectly confident of himself, fully aware that he was creating an innovation, went straight ahead and let the people who do not like strange things wag their heads and prate about breaking precedents. Sometimes it is a good thing to break precedents.

Not Aping Teddy.

President Wilson has found ways to do rather startling things without "aping Teddy." It was always expected that Roosevelt would do something strange and upsetting, and the people liked him for it. No doubt the tendency of President Taft to settle down in the line of strict precedents had something to do with his unpopularity. At the same time if Roosevelt had turned the Wilson trick of delivering his messages personally to congress he would have been more than a nine days' sensation.

People would have talked about it as long as they discussed Roosevelt. But now that President Wilson has delivered his message personally the question arises, Why not? It was a very dignified performance; the senators and representatives appeared in their good clothes; there was the utmost decorum, and everybody wanted to witness the scene. It turned out all right.

House Unsatisfactory.

The new arrangement of the house without the desks is not satisfactory. Members are complaining vigorously. There is no opportunity for members to keep documents, write amendments, unless upon a pad, using the knee as a table, and while that is English, it is not satisfactory to the American congressman.

The men with the least to do get the best seats and keep them. Doorkeepers and pages never know where to find a member. One day he may be in one part of the hall and the next in another. The "benches," so called, will have to stay during this session, for the house could not be arranged differently until there is a recess, but it may be expected that the desks will be returned, even if it crowds the hall.

Almost Solid.

"We are almost solid now," remarked Congressman Stevens of Minnesota, referring to the delegation from his state. For two years no one could tell whether the Minnesota delegation was "on" or "off the reservation." At times the whole of them went back on the Republican party, at other times only a portion of them. All of them except Lindbergh voted for Mann, and Lindbergh was very much inclined to make it a solid delegation.

Austin on Fitzgerald.

Austin of Tennessee and Fitzgerald of New York met in Secretary McAdoo's office. Fitzgerald attempted to tell the secretary about the Tennessee man, but McAdoo recalled days twenty-five years ago when he and Austin lived at Knoxville.

"Now, let me tell you about Fitzgerald," said Austin. "He's all right save for his extravagance. He wants to appropriate for everything. But leaving out the sarcasm, Mr. Secretary, if Fitzgerald could have his way he would keep all the money you have in the treasury as well as all that you will collect from the new tariff and the income tax. It's his ambition to have four years in which to pile up money in the treasury without taking any out."

John Dwight Looks On.

John Dwight, formerly a member from New York, was an interested onlooker during the first days of the session. "This just suits me," said Dwight. "I am shouldering no responsibility. Washington is nice this time of the year. I can divide my time between congress and the baseball games, and how can you lay out a better program?"

Jimcrow Cars.

Of course the people of Washington know that Senator Vardaman of Mississippi cannot carry through a law for Jimcrow cars for the District of Columbia, which will separate the white and colored people as in the southern states, but they will watch with great interest the attempt.

It would be better for both races, but the political aspect of the case will govern the action of congress.

REED SMOOT.

Utah Senator Will Make Fight for Old Soldiers.

OLD SOLDIERS MAY LOSE OUT

Republicans Up in Arms Over Danger to Senate Roll.

Washington, April 15.—Thirty-three veterans of the Union army in the Civil war who compose the old soldiers' roll of the senate are in danger of demotion and reduction of salary and Republican senators are up in arms.

Under a resolution of the senate these old soldiers are to "continue in their positions until cause for their removal shall have been reported and approved by the senate and their removal directed," and Republicans charge that changes made in the roll violate this resolution.

Senator Smoot will call the matter to the attention of the senate and a lively fight is expected.

BELGIAN STRIKE IS IN FULL OPERATION

About Two Hundred Thousand Men Quit Work.

Brussels, April 15.—The great strike of workmen in Belgium to force the government to grant manhood suffrage began quietly and it was estimated that 200,000 men throughout the country had quit work. This number is at least 100,000 short of the Socialist predictions and the Clericalist press is beginning to call the movement "a pitiable fiasco."

Nevertheless the strike has shown greater strength than was expected by impartial observers. The strike thus far has been marked by neither disturbances nor any special inconvenience to the general public. The gas, electric and street cleaning service and the street cars and railroads are in operation as usual, but Brussels merchants say trade is at a standstill. The city is full of children of the provincial strikers, who are being cared for by the families of Liberals.

The only act of sabotage occurred in a suburb where three big machines in a leather factory were damaged.

PIUS X. PASSES DANGER POINT

BANK CASHIER IS SLAIN

Fellow Employee Suspected of Brutal Murder.

Bismarck, N. D., April 15.—Shot in the back, Clarence E. Funk, cashier of the First National bank of Washburn, died three minutes after he was carried into his residence by his wife and a maid.

W. T. Anderson, clerk in the bank, has been placed under arrest on suspicion.

Funk and his family were on the rear porch when his small son fell while playing. As the father stooped to pick him up the bullet struck him in the back, coming out over the right breast. There seems to be no doubt in the minds of Washburn residents that it was murder.

Twice Funk has been threatened. Once a brick was thrown through the bank window and another time the window of the bank was ornamented during the night with skulls and cross bones, warning him that parties interested would "get him."

ILL HEALTH CAUSES CRIME

Insane Man Kills Four Children and Himself.

Fitchburg, Mass., April 15.—Ernest Moschner, thirty-five years old, murdered his four children and then killed himself by shooting at his home. Continued ill health made the man temporarily insane, the police believe.

Moschner's wife, upon returning from work, discovered the bodies of her children and husband with bullet holes in their heads.

The children were: Elsie, twelve years old; Myrtle, eleven years old; Norman, eight years old, and Ernest, six years old.

HOG CHOLERA SERUM FREE

Minnesota House Passes Senate Bill for Distribution.

St. Paul, April 15.—Several bills were passed in the house under a suspension of the rules. One was the Cashman-Haycraft bill from the senate, which authorizes the distribution of free hog cholera serum from the state farm school laboratory. Farmers will be required to pay only cost of transportation. The bill provides that the serum must be given by recognized veterinarians.

A modified "blue sky" law, giving the state insurance commissioner control over all insurance promotion schemes, was passed by the senate. The bill is by Senator H. N. Benson of St. Peter.

Pope Rallies Wonderfully From Serious Attack.

ABLE TO TAKE NOURISHMENT

Pontiff Breathes Easier and Is Free for Long Periods From Coughing Spells, Indicating a Considerable Amelioration of the Bronchial Symptoms—Shows Much Interest in What Is Happening About Him.

Rome, April 15.—The pope has rallied in a wonderful manner from the serious attack from which he suffered. The physicians' report indicates that the danger point, for the present at least, has been passed.

The temperature was normal, the pulse remained at about 85 and the respiration 26. This indicated a considerable amelioration in the bronchial symptoms, which was evidenced by easier breathing and freedom for long periods from coughing.

In addition the pope was able to take some nourishment and he showed much interest in what was happening about him. When Professor Marchiafava allowed the pontiff's nephew to enter the room there was an affecting scene. The frail and aged pontiff and the young and robust priest embraced tenderly, the latter being unable to restrain his emotion at finding the pope so changed physically.

Professor Marchiafava repeated his assurances that if prudence were exercised the pope would recover. He declared that his examination of the chest showed that the inflammation, which was marked on the left side, had been checked and was actually diminishing, while the bronchial sounds were less noticeable.

The sisters of the pope and his niece are happy in having the pope's nephew with them, as he is most hopeful for the recovery of the pontiff and keeps up their spirits.

Cardinal Kopp, archbishop of Breslau, is expected soon to arrive. He has the highest veneration for the pope and, being deeply affected by the reports of the pontiff's serious condition, desires, even if he cannot see him, to be near him in Rome.

WILSON NOT FAIR SPEAKER

President Declines Invitation, Saying He Is Refusing All Dates.

St. Paul, April 15.—President Woodrow Wilson will not speak at the Minnesota state fair on Labor day, Sept. 1. He is declining all invitations to deliver addresses the first year of his administration, his secretary wrote to J. C. Simpson, secretary of the fair, in a letter just received.

Mr. Simpson promised the president the "largest and most representative audience ever gathered at any state fair grounds in America," if he would consent to deliver the opening day address.

The letter in which the president declines to break the rule he has laid down for the opening year of his administration was signed by J. P. Tumulty, secretary to the president.

TODAY ENDS TITANIC CLAIMS

Anniversary of Vessel's Foundering Closes Time to File.

New York, April 15.—Today, the first anniversary of the sinking of the steamship Titanic, has been set as the last day on which claims against the Oceanic Steamship company, owners of the Titanic, can be filed in the United States district court for loss of life and property. Damages in excess of $10,000,000 already have been asked.

Claims aggregating $10,216,000 have been filed. One is for $510,000, asked for the death of Clarence Moore, a broker of Washington, D. C. Another large claim is for $50,000, made on behalf of the mother and father of Ama Skoog, who was lost with her husband and three children.

ATTACK ON WILSON BARRED

But Mann Says It Will Get Into Congressional Record Later.

Washington, April 15.—Representative Willis, Republican, asked the house to print in the Congressional Record a published letter by William R. Hearst condemning President Wilson's personal appearance before congress in joint session April 8 to read his address.

Several Democrats sprang to their feet and objected and the letter was not received.

"We'll get it in later, all right," said Republican Leader Mann, shaking a forefinger at the Democratic side of the house.

TO ABOLISH SECRET CAUCUS

Intent of Bill Introduced in House by Representative Morgan.

Washington, April 15.—The secret caucus in congress would be abolished and it would be unlawful for a caucus or conference to bind a legislator to vote against his best judgment, according to a bill introduced by Representative Morgan. Executive secret sessions might be held by order of a two-thirds vote of the caucus or conference.

CAUCUS MAKING SLOW PROGRESS

House Democrats Discuss Agricultural Schedule.

CITY AND COUNTRY COLLIDE

Members From Thickly Populated Districts Contend That All Farm and Food Products Should Be Placed on the Free List—Members From Agricultural States Complain That Rates Sacrifice Interests of Farmers.

Washington, April 15.—City was arrayed against country when the Democratic members of the house of representatives resumed consideration in caucus of the Underwood tariff bill. "The fellows from the city," as they were characterized by Representative Shackelford of Missouri, turned their batteries on the agricultural schedule, which imposes small protection rates on nearly all products of the farm. The city members expressed the belief that, in order to help the "market basket," all farm and food products should be placed on the free list.

They urged this view when the bill was before the committee on ways and means and in clarion tones they reiterated it. They declared that, as an evidence of good faith, the Democratic party ought to try free trade in food products in an effort to reduce the cost of living.

Representative Hammond of Minnesota, who helped to frame the agricultural schedule, defended it. He said it was not entirely satisfactory to him, but it represented a compromise, fair in the main to all interests involved.

Most of the members from agricultural states complained bitterly that the rates of the schedule under consideration sacrificed the interests of the farmers. They urged that the reductions would in no wise affect the cost of living and that, this being so, it would be the wise thing to accord the farmers a little more "incidental protection."

Both sides to the controversy hammered the rates of the Underwood agricultural schedule, but when the time came to vote the majority of the caucus stood by Chairman Underwood and his associates.

Harrison Defends Schedule.

An element of humor was injected in the session by the appearance of Representative Harrison of New York as a defender of the agricultural schedule. Mr. Harrison was one of the leading advocates of free farm products when the Underwood bill was in course of preparation in the committee on ways and means and he clashed on a number of occasions with Mr. Hammond.

Owing to illness Representative Underwood was able to be present. As the ranking Democrat next to Mr. Underwood it became necessary, therefore, for Mr. Harrison to act as leader and, accordingly, he had to defend the agricultural schedule. Mr. Harrison made a good job of it. He did his work so well that the "city fellows" failed in every effort they made either to reduce rates or to transfer certain products to the free list.

Although the committee won out on every question brought into controversy little progress was made on the agricultural schedule. Less than a page of it was considered. Nobody seemed to be particularly happy over the rates of the agricultural schedule and nearly everybody growled about it.

One amendment was offered providing that cattle should be placed on the free list instead of carrying a rate of 10 per cent ad valorem as provided by the bill. This was defeated.

Another amendment was offered increasing the duty on barley, which is taxed at the rate of 15 cents a bushel in the bill as compared with 30 cents in the existing law.

MORGAN TAX NEAR $3,000,000

Inheritance Fee Based on Preliminary Estimates of Estate.

Albany, N. Y., April 15.—New York state will receive between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 in inheritance tax from the estate of the late J. P. Morgan, according to preliminary estimates made by attaches of the state comptroller's office. The estimate is based on a report that the total estate will be about $100,000,000. The tax is expected to be one of the largest ever paid.

Coroner Killed in Elevator.

Bismarck, N. D., April 15.—E. G. Field, county coroner and furniture merchant, was crushed to death while working on a freight elevator, half way between two floors. His cries brought immediate assistance, but it was necessary to wreck the elevator with saws and axes before he was liberated.

WANTS ARIZONA TO NAME JUDGE

Senator Ashurst Favors Primary for Federal Place.

PRESIDENT MAY ACT SOON

Former Governor Sloan Was Appointed by Mr. Taft, but Failed of Confirmation in the Senate—Wilson Fails to Name Candidate Recommended and Contest Has Grown Until There Are Twelve Aspirants in the Field.

Washington, April 15.—President Wilson's ideas of direct government by the people are to be put to a severe test by Senator Henry Ashurst of Arizona. Mr. Ashurst, who is an advocate of the initiative, referendum and judicial recall, has put into operation a plan for determining the popular choice of a judge for the federal district of Arizona. When that choice is determined he will call upon President Wilson to name the man.

President Taft appointed former Governor Sloan to this important judgeship, but the senate refused to confirm the nomination and a vacancy exists. Senators Ashurst and Smith joined in recommending a candidate to President Wilson, but he was not appointed and the contest for the place continued to grow warmer until now there are twelve candidates.

Senator Ashurst finally has notified the president and the attorney general that he will withdraw the recommendation he put on file and will ask the people of Arizona to petition the governor to call "an advisory election" at an early date, so as to give the people of Arizona an opportunity to express their choice for a federal judge.

Under a statute of Arizona 15 per cent of the voters of the state may petition the governor to call an election to permit the people to vote on their choice for federal judge, the result of the election to be certified to the president as "advisory." Senator Ashurst has sent more than a thousand circulars to leading citizens in Arizona and the newspapers there are printing blank petitions, which their readers are requested to cut out and sign and forward to the governor.

Ashurst Explains Position.

"If the president sees fit to fill the vacancy, regardless of the petitions that are being circulated for the special election, I will have no quarrel with the president about it," said Senator Ashurst. "I recognize his right, as well as his responsibility, in the matter. Our statute providing for advisory elections to give the people an opportunity to express their preference for federal judge is the only one of its kind in any state in the Union. I helped to pass the statute and I believe it is my duty to see the spirit of it carried out."

In the letter which Senator Ashurst sent to his constituents urging them to petition the governor to call an election he said: "Surely the people have the same right to make an expression as to their choice for federal judge as for senators," and adds: "A vast majority of the harsh, unreasonable and unjust decisions against organized labor have been rendered by the federal courts," and "the power of issuance of injunctions and other extraordinary writs has been greatly abused by some federal judges."

Some of the Democrats in Arizona have become alarmed over the proposed special election. They have warned Senator Ashurst that it might result in the election of former Governor Sloan, a Republican, whose nomination was not confirmed by the senate.

"I told them that if the people of Arizona wanted Governor Sloan for federal judge they were entitled to have him," said Senator Ashurst. The election, if called, will be open to Democrats and Republicans alike to vote for a choice.

For Presidential Primaries.

Washington, April 15.—A bill to provide for presidential primaries in all states was introduced by Representative Stevens of Minnesota. If passed this bill would, in Mr. Stevens' judgment, enable the choice of the people to be nominated for president, leaving nothing for the national convention to do but draw a platform for the candidates to run on.

PAGE IS PERSONA GRATA.

Washington, April 15.—Great Britain has formally responded to the American inquiry as to the acceptability of Walter H. Page as American ambassador to the court of St. James. Mr. Page is persona grata to the British government and his nomination will be sent to the senate by President Wilson.

LAI IN CEDAR HILL GRAVE

J. P. Morgan's Remains Interred at Hartford, Conn.

Hartford, Conn., April 15.—The body of J. Pierpont Morgan was laid at rest in the family lot in Cedar Hill cemetery.

The cortege passed along Asylum street, past the financier's birthplace, which was draped in black, down Main street, where stands the memorial erected by Mr. Morgan to his father, who was born 100 years ago.

Practically the whole distance of three miles to the cemetery the streets were lined with people. The committal service was read by Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster of the Episcopal diocese of Connecticut. He was assisted by Rev. Karl Reiland of St. George's church, New York city, and Bishop William Lawrence of the diocese of Massachusetts. The services were conducted in a large tent, which had been erected over the grave and beside the Morgan mausoleum. They followed the Episcopal service strictly.

WILSON WELCOMES D. A. R. DELEGATES

Stormy Business Session Precedes President's Address.

Washington, April 15.—Delegates to the Continental Congress of the D. A. R., which began its twenty-second annual session here, were welcomed to Washington by President Wilson in his first public address here since his inauguration. Addresses of welcome also were made by Secretary of State Bryan and the French ambassador, M. Jusserand. Both the president and Secretary Bryan told the delegates that it was their duty to apply the principles of their revolutionary ancestors to modern problems.

The session given over to addresses of welcome followed a stormy business meeting, which resulted in a partial victory for the forces of Mrs. William Cummings Story of New York, one of the candidates in the strenuous contests for president general of the society. Mrs. Story's partisans secured authorization for the appointment of a collateral committee of representatives of each of the candidates for president general to pass upon the seating of contested delegations.

The fight opened almost as soon as President General Scott had finished his address of welcome, asking for "peace and harmony."

The reading of the report of the credentials committee aroused a storm and many objections to rulings of the chair.

VETOES STERILIZATION BILL.

Nebraska Governor Calls It Like Practice in Pagan Nations.

Lincoln, Neb., April 15.—Governor Morehead vetoed the bill providing for the sterilization of confirmed criminals and the mentally incompetent.

The governor takes the view that such treatment as that provided for in the bill would be more like the practices of pagan nations than that of a Christian country and he is also inclined to believe that it would provide for cruel and inhuman treatment.

The senate, practically without debate, by a vote of 24 to 7, passed the bill over his veto and sent it to the house for concurrence.

GUNPOWDER IN MILK CAN

Infernal Machine Found in the Bank of England.

London, April 15.—A milk can filled with gunpowder and connected with an electric fuse was found inside the railing surrounding the Bank of England. It was removed by the police. Smoke was issuing from the can when a policeman found it. He plunged it into a fountain in the vicinity. When the can was examined a clockwork arrangement was found inside.

The attempt on the bank is attributed in some quarters to the militant suffragettes.

WASHINGTON GETS MANY SURPRISES

New Administration Makes Own Program.

CAPITAL LIKES NOVELTY.

President Wilson Has Original Way of Doing Things—His Plan of Reading His Message to Congress Was Startling, but Turned Out Well, Nearly Everybody Agrees.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 15.—[Special.]—The new administration has given Washington a number of surprises, and Washington gasps for breath occasionally. Such was the case especially when it was stated that President Wilson would frequently visit the capitol and confer with senators and representatives. Then when he said he was going to the capitol and in person read his first message Washington was astounded.

But when the program was carried out everything went off so smoothly that it seemed a mighty nice thing to do. President Wilson, perfectly confident of himself, fully aware that he was creating an innovation, went straight ahead and let the people who do not like strange things watch their heads and prate about breaking precedents. Sometimes it is a good thing to break precedents.

Not Aping Teddy.

President Wilson has found ways to do rather startling things without "aping Teddy." It was always expected that Roosevelt would do something strange and upsetting, and the people liked him for it. No doubt the tendency of President Taft to settle down in the line of strict precedents had something to do with his unpopularity. At the same time if Roosevelt had turned the Wilson trick of delivering his messages personally to congress he would have been more than a nine days' sensation.

People would have talked about it as long as they discussed Roosevelt. But now that President Wilson has delivered his message personally the question arises, Why not? It was a very dignified performance; the senators and representatives appeared in their good clothes; there was the utmost decorum, and everybody wanted to witness the scene. It turned out all right.

House Unsatisfactory.

The new arrangement of the house without the desks is not satisfactory. Members are complaining vigorously. There is no opportunity for members to keep documents, write amendments, unless upon a pad, using the knee as a table, and while that is English, it is not satisfactory to the American congressman.

The men with the least to do get the best seats and keep them. Doorkeepers and pages never know where to find a member. One day he may be in one part of the hall and the next in another. The "benches," so called, will have to stay during this session, for the house could not be arranged differently until there is a recess, but it may be expected that the desks will be returned, even if it crowds the hall.

Almost Solid.

"We are almost solid now," remarked Congressman Stevens of Minnesota, referring to the delegation from his state. For two years no one could tell whether the Minnesota delegation was "on" or "off the reservation." At times the whole of them went back on the Republican party, at other times only a portion of them. All of them except Lindbergh voted for Mann, and Lindbergh was very much inclined to make it a solid delegation.

Austin on Fitzgerald. Austin of Tennessee and Fitzgerald of New York met in Secretary McAdoo's office. Fitzgerald attempted to tell the secretary about the Tennessee man, but McAdoo recalled days twenty-five years ago when he and Austin lived at Knoxville.

"Now, let me tell you about Fitzgerald," said Austin. "He's all right save for his extravagance. He wants to appropriate for everything. But leaving out the sarcasm, Mr. Secretary, if Fitzgerald could have his way he would keep all the money you have in the treasury as well as all that you will collect from the new tariff and the income tax. It's his ambition to have four years in which to pile up money in the treasury without taking any out."

John Dwight Looks On.

John Dwight, formerly a member from New York, was an interested onlooker during the first days of the session. "This just suits me," said Dwight. "I am shouldering no responsibility. Washington is nice this time of the year. I can divide my time between congress and the baseball games, and how can you lay out a better program?"

Jimcrow Cars.

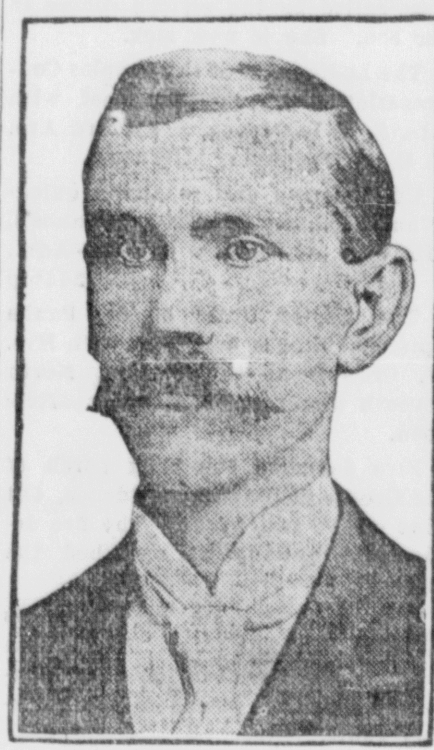

Of course the people of Washington know that Senator Vardaman of Mississippi cannot carry through a law for jimcrow cars for the District of Columbia, which will separate the white and colored people as in the southern states, but they will watch with great interest the attempt. It would be better for both races, but the political aspect of the case will govern the action of congress.

Utah Senator Will Make Fight for Old Soldiers.

OLD SOLDIERS MAY LOSE OUT

Republicans Up in Arms Over Danger to Senate Roll.

Washington, April 15.—Thirty-three veterans of the Union army in the Civil war who compose the old soldiers' roll of the senate are in danger of demotion and reduction of salary and Republican senators are up in arms.

Under a resolution of the senate these old soldiers are to "continue in their positions until cause for their removal shall have been reported and approved by the senate and their removal directed," and Republicans charge that changes made in the roll violate this resolution.

Senator Smoot will call the matter to the attention of the senate and a lively fight is expected.

BELGIAN STRIKE IS IN FULL OPERATION

About Two Hundred Thousand Men Quit Work.

Brussels, April 15.—The great strike of workmen in Belgium to force the government to grant manhood suffrage began quietly and it was estimated that 200,000 men throughout the country had quit work. This number is at least 100,000 short of the Socialist predictions and the Clericalist press is beginning to call the movement "a pitiable fiasco."

Nevertheless the strike has shown greater strength than was expected by impartial observers. The strike thus far has been marked by neither disturbances nor any special inconvenience to the general public. The gas, electric and street cleaning service and the street cars and railroads are in operation as usual, but Brussels merchants say trade is at a standstill. The city is full of children of the provincial strikers, who are being cared for by the families of Liberals.

The only act of sabotage occurred in a suburb where three big machines in a leather factory were damaged.

Life for Blocking Tracks.
Council Bluffs, Ia., April 15.—John Holmes, who pleaded guilty two weeks ago to an indictment charging him with placing obstructions on the Chicago Great Western railroad tracks two miles east of McClelland, near this city, was sentenced in district court to 18 months imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Fort Madison.

PIUS X. PASSES DANGER POINT

BANK CASHIER IS SLAIN

Fellow Employee Suspected of Brutal Murder.

Bismarck, N. D., April 15.—Shot in the back, Clarence E. Funk, cashier of the First National bank of Washburn, died three minutes after he was carried into his residence by his wife and a maid.

W. T. Anderson, clerk in the bank, has been placed under arrest on suspicion.

Funk and his family were on the rear porch when his small son fell while playing. As the father stooped to pick him up the bullet struck him in the back, coming out over the right breast. There seems to be no doubt in the minds of Washburn residents that it was murder.

Twice Funk has been threatened. Once a brick was thrown through the bank window and another time the window of the bank was ornamented during the night with skull and cross bones, warning him that parties interested would "get him."

ILL HEALTH CAUSES CRIME

Insane Man Kills Four Children and Himself.

Pitchburg, Mass., April 15.—Ernest Moschner, thirty-five years old, murdered his four children and then killed himself by shooting at his home. Continued ill health made the man temporarily insane, the police believe.

Moschner's wife, upon returning from work, discovered the bodies of her children and husband with bullet holes in their heads.

The children were: Elsie, twelve years old; Myrtle, eleven years old; Norman, eight years old, and Ernest, six years old.

HOG CHOLERA SERUM FREE

Minnesota House Passes Senate Bill for Distribution.

St. Paul, April 15.—Several bills were passed in the house under a suspension of the rules. One was the Cashman-Haycraft bill from the senate, which authorizes the distribution of free hog cholera serum from the state farm school laboratory. Farmers will be required to pay only cost of transportation. The bill provides that the serum must be given by recognized veterinarians.

A modified "blue sky" law, giving the state insurance commissioner control over all insurance promotion schemes, was passed by the senate. The bill is by Senator H. N. Benson of St. Peter.

Pope Rallies Wonderfully From Serious Attack.

ABLE TO TAKE NOURISHMENT

Pontiff Breathes Easier and Is Free for Long Periods From Coughing Spells, Indicating a Considerable Amelioration of the Bronchial Symptoms—Shows Much Interest in What Is Happening About Him.

Rome, April 15.—The pope has rallied in a wonderful manner from the serious attack from which he suffered. The physicians' report indicates that the danger point, for the present at least, has been passed.

The temperature was normal, the pulse remained at about 85 and the respiration 26. This indicated a considerable amelioration in the bronchial symptoms, which was evidenced by easier breathing and freedom for long periods from coughing.

In addition the pope was able to take some nourishment and he showed much interest in what was happening about him. When Professor Marchisava allowed the pontiff's nephew to enter the room there was an affecting scene. The frail and aged pontiff and the young and robust priest embraced tenderly, the latter being unable to restrain his emotion at finding the pope so changed physically.

Professor Marchisava repeated his assurances that if prudence were exercised the pope would recover. He declared that his examination of the chest showed that the inflammation, which was marked on the left side, had been checked and was actually diminishing, while the bronchial sounds were less noticeable.

The sisters of the pope and his niece are happy in having the pope's nephew with them, as he is most hopeful for the recovery of the pontiff and keeps up their spirits.

Cardinal Kopp, archbishop of Breslau, is expected soon to arrive. He has the highest veneration for the pope and, being deeply affected by the reports of the pontiff's serious condition, desires, even if he cannot see him, to be near him in Rome.

WILSON NOT FAIR SPEAKER

President Declines Invitation, Saying He Is Refusing All Dates.

St. Paul, April 15.—President Woodrow Wilson will not speak at the Minnesota state fair on Labor day, Sept. 1. He is declining all invitations to deliver addresses the first year of his administration, his secretary wrote to J. C. Simpson, secretary of the fair, in a letter just received.

Mr. Simpson promised the president the "largest and most representative audience ever gathered at any state fair grounds in America," if he would consent to deliver the opening day address.

The letter in which the president declines to break the rule he has laid down for the opening year of his administration was signed by J. P. Tumulty, secretary to the president.

TODAY ENDS TITANIC CLAIMS

Anniversary of Vessel's Foundering Closes Time to File.

New York, April 15.—Today, the first anniversary of the sinking of the steamship Titanic, has been set as the last day on which claims against the Oceanic Steamship company, owners of the Titanic, can be filed in the United States district court for loss of life and property. Damages in excess of $10,000,000 already have been asked.

Claims aggregating $10,216,000 have been filed. One is for $510,000, asked for the death of Clarence Moore, a broker of Washington, D. C. Another large claim is for $50,000, made on behalf of the mother and father of Ama Skook, who was lost with her husband and three children.

ATTACK ON WILSON BARRED

But Mann Says It Will Get Into Congressional Record Later.

Washington, April 15.—Representative Willis Republican, asked the house to print in the Congressional Record a published letter by William R. Hearst condemning President Wilson's personal appearance before congress in joint session April 8 to read his address.

Several Democrats sprang to their feet and objected and the letter was not received.

"We'll get it in later, all right," said Representative Leader Mann, shaking a forefinger at the Democratic side of the house.

TO ABOLISH SECRET CAUCUS

Intent of Bill Introduced in House by Representative Morgan.

Washington, April 15.—The secret caucus in congress would be abolished and it would be unlawful for a caucus or conference to bind a legislator to vote against his best judgment, according to a bill introduced by Representative Morgan. Executive secret sessions might be held by order of a two-thirds vote of the caucus or conference.

COUNCIL'S NEW OFFER TO STONER

2 3-8 per Kilowatt for 800,000 Kilowatts, 2c in Excess, 1 1/2c for Pumping

TO BE CONTRACT FOR 12 YEARS

Stoner Refuses the Other Proffer Made by the City Council at Previous Meeting

The council held a special meeting last night to take up the electric light proposition. All members were present.

President C. B. Rowley stated the object of the meeting. The first order of business was the reading of Stoner's formal refusal of the offer made by the council at a previous meeting, being 2 3-8 cents for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c in excess, 1 1/2c for power furnished from 6 P. M. to 11 P. M., being for an 8 year period.

There was then offered the council an amendment to the Toltz contract and the contract offered by the Cuyuna Range Power company was further amended by alterations suggested by Alderman Elder until it read:

2 1/2c for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c in excess, being for the unexpired term of the Toltz contract (7 1/2 years.)

2 3-8c for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c in excess, 1 1/2c for pumping, the latter being an option for a 10 year contract after the first named expired.

Bonds in the sum of $25,000 to be furnished. This proposition was voted down, Aldermen Lagerquist, Elder, Webb and Purdy voting yes and Aldermen Fogelstrom, Dieckhaus, Henning, Anderson, Olson and Rowley voting no. Aldermen Webb and Purdy left the room.

On motion of Alderman Dieckhaus, seconded by Alderman Fogelstrom, a new proposition was broached and adopted by a 6 to 2 vote. This reads: 2 3-8c for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c for all in excess, 1 1/2c pumping. An auxiliary plant to be maintained. Life of contract 12 years from date of present contract. The vote stood: Yeas, Aldermen Elder, Fogelstrom, Dieckhaus, Anderson, Lagerquist and Rowley. Nays, Aldermen Henning and Olson. Absent, Aldermen Purdy and Webb.

and then an adjournment was taken.

PLIGHT OF A BIRD

Frightened Partridge Flies Against Pane of Glass, Shatters it at Home of Prof. Bartsch

This morning at a quarter of seven o'clock Prof. and Mrs. Wm. Bartsch, living at 701 9th street north, were awakened by the crashing of window glass. Hastily arising they discovered that their large front window 40x48 inches in dimensions had been smashed.

Thinking perhaps that an over zealous ball player had thrown a ball through the window, a search was made for the ball when a half stunned partridge was discovered in a corner of the room. The bird was easily caught, and it was found to be uninjured except for a cut on the leg. The Prof. was for having a fine partridge dinner, but the kinder heart of his estimable wife insisted on its release which was done.

EXAMINE SCHOOL CHILDRENS' EYES

Dr. Clark, of the Government Service and Dr. Chesley of State Board of Health

SEARCH FOR TRACHOMA CASES

Of 1552 Pupils Examined, But One Case of This Eye Sickness Was Discovered

Dr. T. Clark, of Washington, D. C., of the government service and Dr. A. J. Chesley, of Minneapolis, of the state board of health, examined the school children of the city to see if any had trachoma, an infectious eye disease.

Of 1,522 children examined, but one had this sickness and the girl will be given proper treatment and the spread of the sickness arrested. The disease, if neglected, is very obstinate to treat and may ruin the eye permanently or even destroy the sight.

Dr. R. A. Beise, health officer of the city, accompanied the two doctors on their investigating tour. He knew of several adults in the city who had the disease, and that family was visited and Dr. Beise's diagnosis confirmed.

Four cases of trachoma were found in Duluth, five in Winona, some at Cuyuna and Crosby and some cases among the Indians on Mille Lake.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by H. P. Dunn.—Adv. tts

IS SERIOUSLY SICK

T. H. Considine, Commercial Manager of Local Telephone Co., in Hospital

T. H. Considine, commercial manager of the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company, is seriously sick at St. Joseph's hospital. His temperature registered 106 yesterday. Mr. Considine had not been feeling well for several weeks and had been in bed for a week before being taken to the hospital, having suffered from the grip and bronchitis.

Mr. Considine is a very popular official of the telephone company and his many friends hope his illness will be of short duration.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by H. P. Dunn.—Adv. tts

POKER PLAYERS GAME STOPPED

Seven Card Players Pay $15 and Costs Each in Municipal Court This Morning

BURNS DETECTIVE IN CASE

Of Three Men Accused of Assault and Battery, One Pays a Fine of $50 and Costs

On complaint of one Joseph E. Robinson, of Minneapolis, who claims he is a detective in the employ of the William J. Burns national agency and who was accompanied by an assistant named S. Kacer of St. Paul, several arrests were made for gambling on the second floor of the Antlers hotel and the confectionery store of B. F. Boyd.

Seven of the card players paid fines of $15 and costs each in municipal court this morning, having plead guilty. One player has not been found and another will stand trial.

Later, it is said, Kacer was roughly handled at a local saloon and he swore out warrants for assault and battery against the men, of whom one plead guilty and was fined $50 and costs in municipal court this morning. The other two demanded a trial.

Mr. Robinson, when interviewed, was asked who sent him to Brainerd and in reply said he was hired either by the state, county or city. He did not know and said the operatives of the agency simply got an order to go to such and such a place.

TOOK PICTURE ON SUNDAY

F. A. Nelson, of Little Falls, Fined $5 For Photographing a Man

That a wave of law enforcement is in vogue gains strength by the report from Little Falls where a photographer, F. A. Nelson, was fined $5 and costs for photographing a man last Sunday. Pool halls and billiard rooms were ordered closed Sunday. Two business men playing marbles on the street suffered the confiscation of their marbles.

COUNCIL'S NEW OFFER TO STONER

2 3-8 per Kilowatt for 800,000 Kilowatts, 2c in Excess, 1 1/2c for Pumping

TO BE CONTRACT FOR 12 YEARS

Stoner Refuses the Other Proffer Made by the City Council at Previous Meeting

The council held a special meeting last night to take up the electric light proposition. All members were present.

President C. B. Rowley stated the object of the meeting.

The first order of business was the reading of Stoner's formal refusal of the offer made by the council at a previous meeting, being 2 3-8 cents for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c in excess, 1 1/2c for power furnished from 6 P. M. to 11 P. M., being for an 8 year period.

There was then offered the council an amendment to the Toltz contract and the contract offered by the Cuyuna Range Power company was further amended by alterations suggested by Alderman Elder until it read:

2 1/2c for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c in excess, being for the unexpired term of the Toltz contract (7 1/2 years.)

2 3-8c for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c in excess, 1 1/2c for pumping, the latter being an option for a 10 year contract after the first named expired.

Bonds in the sum of $25,000 to be furnished.

This proposition was voted down, Aldermen Lagerquist, Elder, Webb and Purdy voting yes and Aldermen Fogelstrom, Dieckhaus, Henning, Anderson, Olson and Rowley voting no. Aldermen Webb and Purdy left the room.

On motion of Alderman Dieckhaus, seconded by Alderman Fogelstrom, a new proposition was broached and adopted by a 6 to 2 vote. This reads: 2 3-8c for 800,000 kilowatts, 2c for all in excess, 1 1/2c pumping. An auxiliary plant to be maintained. Life of contract 12 years from date of present contract. The vote stood: Yeas, Aldermen Elder, Fogelstrom, Dieckhaus, Anderson, Lagerquist and Rowley. Nays, Aldermen Henning and Olson. Absent, Aldermen Purdy and Webb.

and then an adjournment was taken.

PLIGHT OF A BIRD

Frightened Partridge Flies Against Pane of Glass, Shatters it at Home of Prof. Bartsch

This morning at a quarter of seven o'clock Prof. and Mrs. Wm. Bartsch, living at 701 9th street north, were awakened by the crashing of window glass. Hastily arising they discovered that their large front window 40x48 inches in dimensions had been smashed.

Thinking perhaps that an over zealous ball player had thrown a ball through the window, a search was made for the ball when a half stunned partridge was discovered in a corner of the room. The bird was easily caught, and it was found to be uninjured except for a cut on the leg. The Prof. was for having a fine partridge dinner, but the kinder heart of his estimable wife insisted on its release which was done.

EXAMINE SCHOOL CHILDRENS' EYES

Dr. Clark, of the Government Service and Dr. Chesley of State Board of Health

SEARCH FOR TRACHOMA CASES

Of 1552 Pupils Examined, But One Case of This Eye Sickness Was Discovered

Dr. T. Clark, of Washington, D. C., of the government service and Dr. A. J. Chesley, of Minneapolis, of the state board of health, examined the school children of the city to see if any had trachoma, an infectious eye disease.

Of 1,522 children examined, but one had this sickness and the girl will be given proper treatment and the spread of the sickness arrested. The disease, if neglected, is very obstinate to treat and may ruin the eye permanently or even destroy the sight.

Dr. R. A. Beise, health officer of the city, accompanied the two doctors on their investigating tour. He knew of several adults in the city who had the disease, and that family was visited and Dr. Beise's diagnosis confirmed.

Four cases of trachoma were found in Duluth, five in Winona, some at Cuyuna and Crosby and some cases among the Indians on Mille Lacs lake.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that trouble you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by H. P. Dunn.—Adv. tfs

Mr. Considine is a very popular official of the telephone company and his many friends hope his illness will be of short duration.

POKER PLAYERS GAME STOPPED

Seven Card Players Pay $15 and Costs Each in Municipal Court This Morning

BURNS DETECTIVE IN CASE

Of Three Men Accused of Assault and Battery, One Pays a Fine of $50 and Costs

On complaint of one Joseph E. Robinson, of Minneapolis, who claims he is a detective in the employ of the William J. Burns national agency and who was accompanied by an assistant named S. Kacser of St. Paul, several arrests were made for gambling on the second floor of the Antlers hotel and the confectionery store of B. F. Boyd.

Seven of the card players paid fines of $15 and costs each in municipal court this morning, having plead guilty. One player has not been found and another will stand trial.

Later, it is said, Kacser was roughly handled at a local saloon and he swore out warrants for assault and battery against the men, of whom one plead guilty and was fined $50 and costs in municipal court this morning. The other two demanded a trial.

Mr. Robinson, when interviewed, was asked who sent him to Brainerd and in reply said he was hired either by the state, county or city. He did not know and said the operatives of the agency simply got an order to go to such and such a place.

WRITES OF TORNADO

C. R. Fogelstrom, Formerly of Brainerd, Tells of Omaha Twister's Devastation

C. R. Fogelstrom, son of Alderman P. G. Fogelstrom and formerly a printer in Brainerd, writes the Dispatch of the tornado which struck his home town, Omaha. Mr. Fogelstrom is there employed as linotype operator on the Omaha Daily News. He says:

The report from Chicago in your publication, stated that half of this city was swept away, which is not true. And again, the reports from Sioux City, Ia., says that the Woodmen of the World building was damaged to a great extent, and every piece of glass being blown out on both sides, which is far from being the truth. The Woodmen of the World is three miles outside of the storm-swept district, and was not damaged at all. Not even a grain of sand on top of the building was blown away. The business portion of Omaha is safe. Even the streets are as dirty as they were before and not a speck more.

Sioux City reports thirty killed in Omaha and that Dundee was struck. Truly Dundee, a suburb west of the city limits, is a place of some fine houses, but not a single house was damaged.

One hundred and thirty seven known dead in Omaha is authentically correct, and many are dying in the hospitals. The injured exceeds 300, the homeless 2,200, houses wrecked 2,000. Loss to property may reach $10,000,000, according to the real estate men, but according to the Daily News, the only paper bringing out the exact truth of the storm, estimates the loss to be $7,500,000.

A week has passed since the tornado of Easter Sunday, but the destruction to life and property and the suffering caused thereby, has just begun to be felt.

Never in the history of Omaha or the state has there been such a storm. Only in two places as I read in the papers has it been equaled in the country.

Within a few months, probably, will the outward signs of this terrible storm be wiped away, since the people of Omaha have liberally given aid to their tornado victims.

The grief and sorrowing over the dead, wrecked homes and fortune, can only be healed in the lapse of time.

The tornado struck the city ten minutes to 6 in the evening on Easter Sunday. One of the daily papers in this city says it was like an enormous balloon. But I say it was nothing but a huge, yellow funnel shaped cloud. Its roar and speed was terrific. It tore a path through the rich and poor resident district, with a sweep three and four blocks wide and six miles long.

Immediately after the storm fires broke out in six different places along the devastated district, from one end to the other. For a while it was our impression that the city was doomed to be swept away by fire and smoke. The heavy downpour of rain, and the prompt action of the firemen, was all that kept the fires confined in their specific places.

In the West Farnam and Bemis Park districts the property damage was great because of the fine residences which were either wholly or partly demolished. Many freaks of the destructive cloud were revealed the next day.

A lace curtain was driven into the ceiling in a room of one house that was slightly damaged. In another house a lace curtain was found wedged in a small crack of a window so tight that no one could pull it out without smashing the window entirely. A 2x4 timber five feet long was driven half way into one end of a piano, with the same effect as you would drive a nail. Many incidents of this freakish storm were reported during the week, some of which could not help provoking a smile or two even though you were in tears.

The article below appeared the following Sunday in The Daily News Being a linotype operator on this paper I happened to get this copy off the hook. While setting it up it was beyond my power to keep from emitting a yell:

This from the Lawyers:
"Yessir," said one lawyer to another of his profession, at the courthouse this morning, "I saw one hour's work was picked up bodily, whirled round three times and set back on its foundation exactly as it was before the tornado. Not an article in the house was disturbed."

"Yes, I heard about that," the second lawyer replied. "But did you notice that place out in the Kountze addition where the house was blown away leaving the paint standing alone on the foundation?"

Nevertheless the storm was tragic, the rich suffering as well as the poor. But the poor people were affected the most. Hundreds of them lost homes that were built out of the money that took them a life time to save. They are now penniless.

WRITES OF TORNADO

C. R. Fogelstrom, Formerly of Brainerd, Tells of Omaha Twister's Devastation

C. R. Fogelstrom, son of Alderman P. G. Fogelstrom and formerly a printer in Brainerd, writes the Dispatch of the tornado which struck his home town, Omaha. Mr. Fogelstrom is there employed as linotype operator on the Omaha Daily News. He says:

The report from Chicago in your publication, stated that half of this city was swept away, which is not true. And again, the reports from Sioux City, Ia., says that the Woodmen of the World building was damaged to a great extent, and every piece of glass being blown out on both sides, which is far from being the truth. The Woodmen of the World is three miles outside of the storm-swept district, and was not damaged at all. Not even a grain of sand on top of the building was blown away. The business portion of Omaha is safe. Even the streets are as dirty as they were before and not a speck more.

Sioux City reports thirty killed in Omaha and that Dundee was struck Truly Dundee, a suburb west of the city limits, is a place of some fine houses, but not a single house was damaged.

One hundred and thirty seven known dead in Omaha is authentically correct, and many are dying in the hospitals. The injured exceeds 300, the homeless 2,200, houses wrecked 2,000. Loss to property may reach $10,000,000, according to the real estate men, but according to the Daily News, the only paper bringing out the exact truth of the storm, estimates the loss to be $7,500,000.

A week has passed since the tornado of Easter Sunday, but the destruction to life and property and the suffering caused thereby, has just begun to be felt.

Never in the history of Omaha or the state has there been such a storm. Only in two places as I read in the papers has it been equaled in the country.

Within a few months, probably, will the outward signs of this terrible storm be wiped away, since the people of Omaha have liberally given aid to their tornado victims.

The grief and sorrow over the dead, wrecked homes and fortune, can only be healed in the lapse of time.

The tornado struck the city ten minutes to 6 in the evening on Easter Sunday. One of the daily papers in this city says it was like an enormous balloon. But I say it was nothing but a huge, yellow funnel shaped cloud. Its roar and speed was terrific. It tore a path through the rich and poor resident district, with a sweep three and four blocks wide and six miles long.

Immediately after the storm fires broke out in six different places along the devastated district, from one end to the other. For a while it was our impression that the city was doomed to be swept away by fire and smoke. The heavy downpour of rain, and the prompt action of the firemen, was all that kept the fires confined in their specific places.

In the West Farnam and Bemis Park districts the property damage was great because of the fine residences which were either wholly or partly demolished. Many freaks of the destructive cloud were revealed the next day.

A lace curtain was driven into the ceiling in a room of one house that was slightly damaged. In another house a lace curtain was found wedged in a small crack of a window so tight that no one could pull it out without smashing the window entirely. A 2x4 timber five feet long was driven half way into one end of a piano, with the same effect as you would drive a nail. Many incidents of this freakish storm were reported during the week, some of which could not help provoking a smile or two even though you were in tears.

The article below appeared the following Sunday in The Daily News Being a linotype operator on this paper I happened to get this copy off the hook. While setting it up it was beyond my power to keep from emitting a yell!

other of his profession, at the courthouse this morning, "I saw one hour's work picked up bodily, whirled round three times and set back on its foundation exactly as it was before the tornado. Not an article in the house was disturbed."

"Yes, I heard about that," the second lawyer replied. "But did you notice that place out in the Kountze addition where the house was blown away leaving the paint standing alone on the foundation?"

Nevertheless the storm was tragic, the rich suffering as well as the poor. But the poor people were affected the most. Hundreds of them lost homes that were built out of the money that took them a life time to save. They are now penniless.

My family and I had a narrow escape. We were on the razor edge of the storm.

Only a few of those 25c safety razors left at D. M. Clark & Co's.—Advt. 266tf
